the Armentans.

The members of the diplomatic corps point to the fact that, as the Mussulmen of Sivas are not to be disarmed, the projected measures against the Armentans create a new danger which may have the gravest corps of the corps of consequences. The concentration of the Turkish troops at Marash con-tinues as rapidly as possible. The Turkish commander at Marash continues acgotiations with the Armen-lans of Zeltoun, holding out all sorts of promises for their surrender. But the Armenians have been so frequent-by deceived that they apprehend wholesale massacre if they lay down their arms. The representatives of the powers have notified the Porte they will not answer for the consequences, if the Zeltoun Armenians are mas-

Turks Arrested.

LONDON, Nov. 23.-A dispatch to the Daily News from Constantinople says

Daily News from Constantinople says that a large number of Turks were arrested in that city at daybreak. They were hurried to the harbor and placed on board a ship. Their destination and the reasons for the arrests cannot be determined at this time.

The correspondent of the Daily News at Constantinople telegraphs that unless the courts which the sultan has promised to establish in Armenia are carefully supervised there will be a bloody assizes after the massacres. Some of the courts to be established have the right of rendering a final decision upon all questions arising and it is feared that many of the Turks will take advantage of this for the purpose of securing a speedy and sure vengeance while ostensibly complying with all the forms of the law.

Winter is coming!

Indeed, some of our great scientific men assert that the approaching winter men assert that the approaching winter will be one of the severest on record. The winter is always dangerous, although too many people forget this important fact. The mildest winter causes more deaths than the hottest summer. It has almost become a proverb that "cold weather kills." And why does it kill?

why does it kill?

Because so many people are in no condition to pass through a severs winter. They complain of tired frelings, they suffer from billousness, pulms near the heart, headaches, back-aches, and seem to lack their customary energy. Cold weather, instead of bracing them up only makes them feel languid, irritable, nervous and depressed. pressed.
